

Presented by Hubject & PIONIX

Join Tech Discussions at the icnc24 Tech Village

The icnc24 Tech Village is the innovative new format within icnc24, offering a platform for industry professionals to delve deeper into smart EV charging topics by fostering discussions and experiencing cutting-edge technical topics in the EV charging industry.

The icnc24 Tech Village, presented by PIONIX and Hubject, will take place on September 2-3, 2024, at Tempelhof Airport, Berlin, Germany.

Why Attend?

You have plenty of opportunity to talk to passionate speakers and experts sharing their technical knowledge on innovative topics. Discuss OCPP 2.1, ISO 15118-20 and other subjects centered around this year's theme "Reliability". Last but not least: Join Expert Table Top sessions to interact directly with industry experts and engage in lively, informative discussions.

Where and When?

icncc24 Tech Village is in the heart of the exhibition and networking space of the Tempelhof Airport apron. The slots in the agenda are now gradually filling up, so check the agenda regularly.
